

Practical Farming Gave McKinnon Background

NATIVE OF ALBERTA

Independent Candidate in This Constituency

(Note:—The following is reprinted from the Calgary Herald, and gives a brief summary of the undertaking of the independent candidate in this constituency in the next provincial election.)

Don McKinnon is a busy man these days. He's harvesting his crop and helping his neighbors to harvest theirs. But he still can find time to stop and discuss Alberta's problems and tell why he will be contesting the Glenora constituency in the next provincial election rolls around.

It is not in terms of business alone that Mr. McKinnon is a busy man. He is a change of government in the province. He believes there is something wrong with the attitude of many people.

"Only this morning," he was talking to a man who said, "there's no use trying. Everything has gone to the dogs. What's the use?"

"What we need in Alberta is to restore confidence, not only in business but in people themselves," said the candidate. "The world only sees people the way they are. It does not see them as they are."

Mr. McKinnon's parents found this "right" on the banks of the Bow River, east of Calgary, near the town of Lethbridge. His father, John McKinnon, was a farmer. His mother, Mrs. McKinnon, was a housewife. They were both born in 1861.

University Graduate

He was one of a family of 15 and, along with his many brothers and sisters, all but one of whom are still living, and make their homes in Alberta. He attended Strathcona, rural school, and then the University of Alberta, where he graduated in 1913, with a B.A. in Agriculture and a B.Sc. in Agriculture.

After graduating in 1913, he came to the University of Alberta, where he continued his study of agriculture. He was a member of the University of Alberta, where he graduated in 1913, with a B.A. in Agriculture and a B.Sc. in Agriculture.

A firm believer in the use of a strong, non-political farmer's organization, Mr. McKinnon has been an active worker in the U.F.A. local in his district for many years and has been president of the group. He was one of those who strongly supported the move to have the U.F.A. quit politics because he felt that this connection tended to kill interest.

He thinks that farmer's organizations should be study groups for "keeping up" on affairs of the day, they can make intelligent demands on the government. He also sees their importance from the technical aspect of farming and he believes it is the duty of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists.

Although he has always taken an active part in public meetings and enterprises in his district it was only recently that Mr. McKinnon began to take a part in provincial politics. He was appointed to the provincial Union council and in March was elected constituency representative and president of the U.F.A. Association in the Glenora constituency.

The hospital Board held their regular meeting on Saturday, August 5, with all members in attendance.

The Secretary reported that the savings for the month amounted to $1,508.93, and that collections on accounts were very poor. Theft of Car Results in Capture Here Thursday

Local Troops Assailed Constable in Capturing Keweenaw Limb of Constable.

Constable Ingber, Ronnie MacLean and Billy Shaw, constables, proved of great assistance to Constable Gordon Ridge of the local detachment R.C.M.P. in bringing Robert Devlin, or no fixed abode, into custody on Thursday evening last.

Devlin, 39 years of age, was reported to have stopped at Bowden. Upon being served, he promptly drove away from the station without paying.

Mr. Bolmer immediately phoned the R.C.M.P. giving a description of the car and driver, stating the car was a 1934 model, a Constable Ridge had no time in quickly checking his records, and believing it to be one stolen on Monday.

The same week at Major Creek, S.A. setting out for the capture. He was, he picked up two of his boys, and asked Billy Shaw to bring the R.I.P. truck along to help with the road.

The bridge across the river, a small one, was the first of the Constable and Shaw drove to the house of the highway. After making a poor bluff, Devlin surprised them to agree, with no resistance, leaving on the west of the car beside him a 32-caliber automatic pistol.

"Taken to Calgary, this night," it was found that Devlin had a long list of convictions attached to him and had served a number of years in penitentiaries in Eastern Canada.

He will appear in Calgary court tomorrow to answer charges made following his arrest.

Scouts Enjoying Dormitories To Be Set Up in Bassano

TO RETURN FROM CAMP TOMORROW NIGHT.

The boys have had a new set of experiences this year by having several mountain climbs. After having previously scaled Tunnel Mountain, the boys tried Sulphur Mountain on Wednesday, Aug. 14th. About noon they arrived at the Upper Hot Springs where they had a chance to watch bathers enjoy the hot sulphur water.

Some of the troop tried the detouring fountain, containing sulphur water at 118 degrees—about the temperature of the sun. Lunch was enjoyed at a spring high up on the mountain side, and the troop reached the observatory on the peak about 2.30 p.m. By 6.30 everyone was home enjoying a hearty supper.

Thursday morning the boys started out with the usual morning run, air salter and Danish exercises. During the afternoon the main part of the troop climbed Mount Sney Mountain and visited the Ski jump on the side of Mount Norquay, led by Mr. Curtis.

Friday morning a small party of eight Scouts, led by Arrison and Curtis, were left at the top of Sney Mountain. The greater efficiency of new fire fighting equipment, property of the fire brigade, unknown to the members, the sounding of the alarm bell and creamy whistles, hurriedly brought them to the fire hall. However, only five managed to reach there in time to fire the truck to the "supposed" scene. By the time the remainder of the troop arrived, the fire was already flowing in a steady stream through the house. A time check made by Fire Chief Hargrave revealed: it took a half minute after the bell had started to ring, all connection had been made, and water was flowing as in last week's test, the time was again approximately three, and a half blocks to a hydrant opposite Government house formerly occupied by Sgt. Clarke.

Many local citizens, as well as Firemen, at first thought there was a real alarm, and within a few minutes twenty cars were gathered along the street to witness the excitement.

Monday and Tuesday the troop was divided, half going to Lyle Louise Moraine Lake, and up the Jasper Highway 15 miles the first day, and the remainder going on Tuesday. For that at home, Scout tests received all attention. Monday morning the boys had a game of football, with lights out at 10.30 p.m.

Tuesday evening the troop hiked about 8 miles up the Bow Highway and spent an hour watching Canada's National Animal, the Beaver, at work. This proved very interesting.

Today, Wednesday, Aug. 15th, they are climbing Mount Rundle, and this attempt is being written half way up the mountain side.

Camp will be broken on Friday, and having exercises, we will be home late Friday night of this week.

Member of the Scout Camp.

Wheat Grades Poor in District

Crop harvesting operations are progressing in the district at present, with a few more farmers swinging their machinery into the field during the week. As yet, however, it is reliably reported, the operations have not reached their peak.

A number of farmers are hauling early sown grain to local elevators, these being combined.

Task of August in July, and the early part of August, has brought disastrous results to early sown grain. Poor grades, mainly three and four, are the best so far given early crops.

It is expected that when later crops are harvested, the grades will prove considerably better. Yields per acre seem to be a little better so far this year than they were last.

FALLS AND ACCIDENTS TAKE LARGE TOLL OF LIFE

Safety's deadly daily double for 1928 was falls and motor vehicle accidents.

These two types of accidents more than equalled the combined toll of the taken by drowning, burns, railroad mishaps, firearms, poison gases, other poisons and the miscellany of other types which contributed to last year's toll of killed-by-accident.

The Alberta Safety League says that the record as reported by the 1928 edition of Accident Facts, the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook just off the press.

"What can I do, that will help to maintain, or improve conditions, in the town or city in which I live."

THIS IS A QUESTION that confronts all broad-minded, sane thinking people, who in addition to maintaining their own position in business or social life, are able, and do take an interest in the welfare of the community as a whole, in which they live.

The answer to this question is solved in numerous ways. Some citizens are able to devote a considerable amount of time to this type of work, thereby discharging their obligations, in spite of the fact that they may or may not feel themselves duty bound to do so. Others are able to contribute money, which enables someone else to be engaged to perform their just duties. In addition to all this there are innumerable ways for everyone to lend a helping hand without a great deal of extra time or money being involved.

In the early spring the Recorder had the pleasure of printing some leaflet menus for D. L. Downs, who manages the Imperial Coffee Shop. These particular menus were of the triple fold type. When they were opened, they formed three panels. On two of these panels were listed the different items offered by the establishment, to satisfy the appetites of their guests. On the third panel, which was on the inside of the front cover, was printed a short story relating to the town. The Recorder is taking the liberty of reprinting here the same story as it appears on the menus, and which is read by several hundred people each month.

BASSANO

"Known as the Best in the West by a Dam Site"

Strategically situated midway between the cities of Medicine Hat and Calgary, Bassano is 48 miles east of Calgary and 110 miles west of Medicine Hat.

Bassano, though a town of but 500 population, boasts conveniences found only in larger cities. It has one of the finest country hotels in southern Alberta. Located here is the Municipal Hospital, which coupled with the professional services of Dr. A. G. Scott, combines a medical service that cannot be excelled. About 20 blocks of paved sidewalks grace the streets which are lined with trees and boulevards, that have been the result of the combined efforts of the Town Council and the Board of Trade. The latter is now being recognized as one of the most active organizations of its kind in the southern part of the Province, helping water, and a sewerage and disposal plant are some of the services offered by residents of this fair town. Government business conducted here include the Government Lumber Store, Magistrate's Police Court Office, School Board Offices for the two enlarged school districts, the E.D. Division No. 44, and the Bow Valley Division No. 45, and a large Dominion Government Post Office, as well as a detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

To the south of town about four miles is located the great irrigation dam. In addition to supplying power, this dam diverts water that irrigates a total of thousands of acres of land. Bassano has always been known as the head of the irrigation block.

Being a railroad junction, Bassano attracts people from all walks of life. From here is shipped annually thousands of head of livestock that eventually find their way into the markets of Great Britain and the United States.

Good stores, such as grocery, hardware, millinery, drug and beauty shops as well as motels and up to date bakery, printing office, service stations and garages, combined with a friendly atmosphere, makes Bassano a town long remembered by visitors.

May we take this opportunity of thanking you for your business, and ask you to tell your friends about Bassano.

This is the story as it appears, and needless to say has been read with interest by several hundred people this summer, accomplishing almost unnoticed what would require considerable time ordinarily to explain.

Mr. Downs informs us that numerous tourists have asked if they might have one of the menus as a souvenir, and a large number of them have disappeared without any asking. This he did not object to at all. To his knowledge, his menus have found their way into several states in the union to the south, as well as almost every province in Canada. In addition to this, three different parties from England have taken them away with them; also a party from France, and one from Bermuda.

This is one way in which we can all do our little bit to give this town a boost, by telling our friends to tell their friends about Bassano.

The Harvest

HARVESTING OPERATIONS are again in full swing in the district, and the sound of the tractor, combine or binder is heard on all sides.

With these annual sounds, comes the hopes of farmers of labor rewarded, plans of repairing worn equipment and buildings, plans of lessening even a portion of some previous debt, and of numerous contemplated undertakings.

How precarious conditions can be, the result of which all who live in an agricultural community realize with a poignancy of anxiety that words are futile to describe. In June of this year there was an assurance of an abundant crop, not only in this district, but everywhere. The people, both urban and rural rejoiced gratefully at the prospects. But today, while over the Province as a whole, a good crop will be harvested, there are

PROSPEROUS FARM COMMUNITY IN AIM OF LINE ELEVATORS

The interest of the Line Elevator Company in the farmer goes much beyond the handling of his grain. The North-West Grain Dealer's Association, under many a name, organized a Public Relations Department under the direction of L. W. Brockington, K.C., one of Canada's outstanding public men. This department has been dedicated to protecting and promoting the interests of the farmer customer.

Much important work has been undertaken by Line Elevators. This includes: advocating continuation of the Wheat Board and the 80 cent price; undertaking a survey of research into industrial utilization of farm products in the United States; advocating establishment of a Western division of the National Research Council to find new industrial uses for wheat and other farm products; financed seed and crop improvement work; financed weed control research; assisted in financing the tour of the tree planting car; sought a lessening of disparity in prices of products which the farmer sells compared with goods that he must buy; proposed that the co-operative associations as members should accept representation of the governing body of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and urged Government supervision of the Exchange; continually advocating free international exchange of goods in order to regulate and expand wheat markets.

All this is valuable work on behalf of agriculture, and the Line Elevator Companies are to be commended for the part that they are playing in seeking to make the Prairies a better place in which to live.

Wheat Legislation

SEVERAL PIECES of Legislation relative to wheat marketing were passed at the last session of the Federal Government. Voluminous printed explanations have been issued by the administration departments. Grain companies have also issued instructions relative to the operation of these acts. But still the farmers seem to be in the dark.

The restrictions of deliveries by farmers to the wheat board, of wheat to the extent of 5,000 bushels furnishes one complication. It would appear that each farm unit can sell 5,000 bushels and no more. But if a farmer owns two farms, he can still sell but 5,000 bushels. And landlord and tenant between them can dispose of only 5,000 bushels. We are not sure whether we are right or not in making the above assertions but neither, do we believe, is the department officials sure.

It looks as though the wheat board is going to have a voluminous mail this harvesting season. It will have to decide upon thousands of complicated cases and is bound to have plenty of grief.

Then this pooling act, or "co-operative marketing act" as it is called, is another complication. The basic price is to be 60c but what does that mean? Is the farmer to get 60c for his 1 northern wheat, or is there storage and other administration charges to be deducted? How is the grain to be handled? Will every elevator organization have a selling pool? What will the significant price be?

It is admitted that the passage of simple comprehensive measures in such cases are impossible. Of necessity such laws must be involved. But the present wheat legislation looks like a Chinese puzzle. It is bound to provide headaches for those farmers to try to decipher it, and much more so for those whose duty it is to administer the acts.—Hanna Herald.

INCOME UP

FEDERAL income tax collections for the second quarter of 1939 totalled $97,762,215 compared with $196,170,181 in the corresponding period of last year.

In the Edmonton area, however, collections were increased from $407,490 in the 1938 quarter to $448,018 in the corresponding quarter of 1939.

PIPELINE

POSSIBILITY of building a pipeline from Turner Valley either to Vancouver or to the Great Lakes was discussed by federal and provincial officials in Calgary recently. Hon. N. E. Tenner represented the province, and Dr. Charles E. Cammell, deputy minister of mines, headed the Dominion party. British capital is expected to finance the huge undertaking, the cost of which is estimated at $15,000,000 to $30,000,000.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

ASSEMBLY of the League of Nations opened on September 11 in Geneva. It was announced in Ottawa that the Canadian delegates will be named shortly.

GOING UP

LARGER Planes are being installed on the Edmonton to Lethbridge, flight of the Trans-Canada Airlines because of the need for greater accommodation, said Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, in Calgary on an inspection tour. "Planes are always filled to capacity and we could have done twice as much business," said Mr. Howe.

CANADIAN BATTLEFRONT

Chinese picketers claimed a victory in their efforts to prevent shipments of scrap iron into Seattle when a dock-owner refused to handle the cargo in Victoria. Activities included a minor riot in which one truck of scrap metal was scattered over the street and a Chinese girl threw herself in front of another.

sections, and we are in one of them, where due to extreme heat in July, and no accompanying moisture, crops have been burned up and returns will be disappointing in the extreme. However, it is to be hoped that local conditions are not quite as serious as some are led to believe, and not until grain is being delivered to the elevators will anyone know with what measure of success or failure the farmers of the district have carried on their work during the year.

CREAMED FISH
Cover fish with water, bring to boiling point and add salt. For a few minutes until fish is cooked—use top of stove or cook on low heat. Drain fish, place on plate. Melt butter in top of stove, add flour, mix well. Add milk, beat with wire whisk. Add salt, pepper, and cream. Pour over fish. Do not let fish remain too long in cream. Can be made with parsley.

She has solved the daily problem... because FISH offers a complete and wholesome change at mealtimes, something the whole family will like. There are over 60 different kinds of Canadian Food Fish and Shellfish from which you can choose either fresh, frozen, smoked, dried, canned or pickled. All of them can be served in an infinite variety of recipes. And... one of the good things about FISH is that it is something, and so easy to prepare! Serve Fish to your family often.

CONTENT

Sweet are the thoughts that savor of content—

The quiet mind is richer than a crown;

Sweet are the heights in careless slumber spent—The poor estate scores Fortune's angry frown.Such sweet content, such minds, such sleep, such bliss,Nobles enjoy when princes are distress.The homely house that harbours quiet rest,The cottage that affords no pride or cart,The mean that grows with country music best,The sweet content of mirth and music's fare.Obscured life sets down a type of ideal.A MIND CONTENT both crown and kingdom IS!

Next time you have trouble in deciding which new maid or hired man to put to work, imagine having the task of examining some 50,000 persons in more than 1,000 competitions for positions as widely different as ad-ditor and entomologist, or test pilot and seamstress. Then you will have a keener conception of part of the annual work of the civil service commission at Ottawa, the Dominion's employment agency.

Naturally the same yard stick cannot be used to measure the capacities of those applying for such a wide variety of positions as is found in the Government service. Five Commission has to size up each situation and decide what form of examination will give the best results. The candidate might be faced with a written, oral or practical test, or a combination of any of these. Or he might not be faced with any of them; for a very satisfactory examination, for technical positions is one in which a Board looks over the application forms, references, and careers of the candidates and arranges them in order of merit, either with or without subsequent oral examination—or competitive interview or these examinations are called in the British Civil Service.

Whatever the form of examination used in its competitions, the Commission is concerned first with getting as many qualified persons as possible to apply; and second in arranging them in their proper positions of merit and assigning them for duty in order from the eligible list.

Silkworm raisers of Japan have trained silkworms to spin on a flat surface, thus doing away not only with cocoons but with the expensive process of boiling the cocoons to kill the chrysalis. A number of worms at the stage when they must begin to spin are placed on a flat tray along whose edge, to prevent them crawling off. At last, to prevent these crawling off. After searching about some time for suitable place to spin, the silkworms give up and begin spinning on the surface, continuing until they become so exhausted they enter the chrysalis stage. Then they are picked from the tray and disposed of.
